COACHES VIDEO'S JOEL KRAUSE TO BE INDUCTED TO THE SPORTS FILM AND VIDEO HALL OF FAME

The Collegiate Sports Video Association (CSVA) will induct Joel Krause of Coaches Video into the Sports Film and Video Hall of Fame in recognition for his dedication and accomplishments in the sports video profession. The induction ceremony will take place at the CSVA award banquet on Wednesday, May 15th, 2019 in Anaheim, California.

Joel Krause grew up on a farm near Webb, Iowa and received a BS in Engineering from Iowa State University in 1981. Upon graduation, Westinghouse moved Joel to Odessa, TX where he experienced "Friday Night Lights." Later he was transferred to Dallas, TX as Honeywell hired Joel away from Westinghouse.

Joel started his first business in 1985. In 1986 he, along with the NFL's Dallas Cowboys, invented "The Cowboy Remote" and Webb Electronics was started.

In 1989 Krause became part of the game day video crew for the Dallas Cowboys and worked home and away games for 14+ years. He also worked with the NFL Replay officials traveling outside of the US as a technical assistant.

In 2014 Coaches Video was formed as a marketing arm of Webb Electronics.

During Krause's 33+ years of inventing, manufacturing and selling in the sports market, he has been able to attend 1000s of athletic events including three Super Bowls, three Olympics. He has visited all 50 states (twice) and more than 50 countries in six continents.
